

News Release

January, 2008

Brennan Heating & Air Conditioning Earns Top Puget Sound Energy Award For Fifth Year

SEATTLE, WASH. – Brennan Heating and Air Conditioning is pleased to announce it has been awarded Puget Sound Energy's highest award, the Platinum Achievement Level, for its sales and customer service in PSE's Contractor Referral Service Program for 2007. The award is only given to one contractor in the program. This is Brennan's fifth year in receiving the coveted award. Previous years include 2005, 2004, 2003 and 2001.

Brennan also received Puget Sound Energy's Top Producer Award for 2007 which is based on sales volume.

Puget Sound Energy (PSE) has more than 1.2 million customers in Washington state. As the primary provider of natural gas to the Puget Sound region, PSE felt the need to offer a free referral service to its customer base. PSE's Contractor Referral Service is a great resource for homeowners to find a pre-qualified contractor as well as a great service for contractors to find customers.

(continued)

Brennan Heating & Air Conditioning Earns Top Puget Sound Energy Award For Fifth Year

Page 2

“We are very happy to have received this prestigious award from Puget Sound Energy for five years,” says Brennan Manager Eric Beardemphl. “We’re proud that even as our company has grown, we’ve continued to give our customers the outstanding service they’ve come to expect from Brennan. And if you’re a quality contractor in our industry, you are in Puget Sound Energy’s program, which makes it that much more rewarding to receive this award.”

Brennan Heating and Air Conditioning is a heating and air conditioning contractor serving the greater Puget Sound. In business since 1987, the company focuses on residential heating and cooling systems and offers service and installation of furnaces, air conditioners, heat pumps, hydronic systems, indoor air quality products, gas logs and fireplace inserts.

###